

20260428 On Documenting My Experience During the Fall of America

I want to continue to write about what I am experiencing every day because we are living through a very important time in world history.

I, personally, as an innocent United States citizen that has wanted nothing more from his life than to abide by the laws, keep my life free of 'evil' as it was written in the Bible, and who came to the aid of America when its politicians cried out for help to save it from a 'hidden' evil,

Am witnessing every single day the following facts:

- 1) A group of people within the government and that are identifying themselves as the body of Donald Trump;
- 2) Are animating themselves around my life at the prompting and directions of order from within the Trump administration.
- 3) These people are not necessarily Trump supporters, but are instead simply supporters and hosts of evil.
- 4) Every day, these people, many drive past my house every day with various identifying marks or sound effects, and many others live in the houses all around me.
- 5) Every day, I go through the same routine.

I was thinking about this this morning: NONE OF THE ITEMS IN MY HOME THAT ARE NOT CONNECTED TO THE INTERNET GIVE ME ANY PROBLEMS AT ALL. NOTHING 'WEIRD' EVER HAPPENS WITH THOSE ITEMS.

But, here in my house, in addition to a parade of vehicles streaming past my home - it's 7:44 a.m. and I must have had 20 cars synchronize with my movements, writings, and computer work at this point - right now, in fact, the neighbor across the street is sitting in his truck idling his V8 engine. Just rumbling.

Inside of my home, my phones, my computers, and most of all - my air conditioner.

My air conditioner is being turned on and off at will by a spying intruder that monitors my home, my movements, my writings, where I am at and what I am doing at all times. An then, this spying intruder that invaded my home after the government cried out for my help to save them from the evil that they - themselves - are creating and animating in our country. Now, I go through the same exact set of endless repeats every single day. I awake, wake to my kitchen - a car drives by. I put coffee into the coffee machine, an engine starts up. I sit down at the computer, a car drives past my home.

This goes on and on and on. The entire operation is designed to appear perfectly normal. "What a crazy lunatic" a person will think when they read this writing. This person has completely gone paranoid!

Yea, sure, America. I am here to tell you that your neighbors are participating in a game of charades with an evil spirit, and your 'smart' home is at least able to be controlled from outside forces at will in an effort to constantly exert a 'presence' in your life - that you may or may not be aware of at this time.

If you do not believe me, then get involved. Go out and sue your government. Start speaking out against Donald Trump, the Freemasons, and all of the evils that you see in these writings.

Then, come back and call me crazy for noticing that 60% of my neighbors are being animated as hosts of evil to present a 'unity' with an evil spirit that is actively invading and destroying my home.

This is what I live with every single day - and that followed me all the way to Periana, Spain.

On this note, I want to publicly record that this is not simply an outside intrusion into my life and home. They have intruded into my space three times.

I want to be very clear about this point, because it is important. When I say that they can do this or do that, one things that I have noticed - that they have shown to me - is that some of this must require that they enter into the premise in order to execute.

Three different times a 'calling card' was left in the house or room that I was staying in to reveal to me (no doubt for the purpose of continuing to irk, bother, and annoy me - that's what this entire operation has revealed itself to be - bothering us!)(our politicians cannot be bothered to vote to save this country!).

The first time they entered into my home, they 'sabotaged my belt.' The buckle on my belt was clearly loosened up to the point that both screws fell off at the same time (both screws at the same time completely loosened themselves while hanging in my closet, sure . . .) and the screws and then the buckle fell off at my feet while standing 1 foot from my closet door. Immediately, I picked up a belt that I put down a week prior in perfect conditions and it fell apart in my hands.

On this note, ladies and gentlemen, I will add to you that I can personally attest that on several occasions, they did in fact 'sabotage' my belt in the literal sense where our belt is symbolic of our 'love life.' Yes, they are sending people to interfere with our love lives as well. The spies within the government are attempting to engage your home with lovers - I swear all of this to you as a God's honest fact. BEWARE!

The second time, I was staying in a hotel room in Periana, Spain. The 'calling card' was left on three occasions while I stayed in that hotel room. The first calling card was in reference to a walk in shower and body spray mechanism found on the wall. The shower and the body spray had a switch that had to be moved from one position to another. I showered in the evening. MY wife showered in the morning. The switch moved from overhead shower to body spray. It doesn't move itself. We check this fact. Discussed it. Then after discussing it, the switch moved again. It's true. Afterwards, they placed a 'maid's cart' immediately outside of our door. When I heard them nearing our door, I immediately ran toward the door to confront them, and when I opened the door, someone was slipping out the emergency exit door immediately across from our room. I witnessed this. I did complain to management, I did document these facts with photos.

(I want to add an additional note about moving through Atlanta, GA during our trip to Spain. We were checking into a hotel late at night - 1a.m. or so. Our flight had been delayed until 9pm. Yes, of course our flight was delayed out of Texas. From morning until night - because of a specific engine problem on the plane. A 'special mechanic' was brought in from Houston. I am not making any of this up. THIS IS OUR LIFE NOW! We are being sabotaged by the Freemasons of the world - and they are everywhere. Anyway, we finally made it to our room late that night after waiting and waiting and travelling late and then being delayed until our next flight from Atlanta, and we get into our room and begin unpacking - and what will you believe? THERE IS NO WATER TURNED ON TO OUR SPECIFIC ROOM! THERE'S NO FUCKING WATER! We were given a voucher to this room. We were given this room by the hotel clerk - and we unpack to find that there's no water on.)

The third time that these villains entered into our space (that I know of) was at the house then, after we moved into it in Periana. The 'block leader' had a key to our home from the previous owners and their relationship before we arrived. The calling card that was left this time was that the locks on my 'vault' safe were reset to '0000' the factory present. Now, this '0000' code was a joke that I used to show that it doesn't matter what code I place on my locks because it has become clearly obvious that the spies have the ability to monitor everything that I do and invade it or replace it through their own connections. So, why bother changing the codes on the locks right? The people that are invading my life are clearly able to penetrate whatever 'security' my tiny life can produce so - I'll just leave the code as '0000'.

Well, when I travelled to Spain, '0000' was not going to be the code that was suitable to move the items that I moved through the airport. It would have been seen as irresponsible. So, I clearly entered a new code into those locks for the travel. We arrived in Spain. We set up, and everything was normal for about one week. I remember specifically monitoring the A/C unit - because this A/C on and off thing is just ridiculous here in San Antonio. So when I arrived, I sat there in the new house - for the first time believing that I was in a private environment again. Then, within one week, after one of our trips into town, everything changed. The A/C, it was set on heater at the time because it was cold, started 'doing its thing again' going on and off at various times to indicate that what I was doing here was effecting something there.

(As I write this, my A/C is going on and off, cars are driving past my home, and cars are slamming doors and beeping their alarms outside right this very moment - directly correlating with the punctuation and points of this recording.)

Anyway, it wasn't long afterward when I went to again lock up my items. We lock up our items every time we leave our house - ever since our 'neighbor' one of the same people that participates in this charade was found to be 'protecting' my home from an 'intruder' that stole my computer. Yes, my neighbor, walked up on a burglar to my home long ago, and let them leave my home with my computer. Then, pretended that he was protecting my home by questioning the culprits and getting their story. Look that's a whole other story.

Anyway, we lock up our items. So, when I went to lock up my locks that next day. . . the codes no longer worked. They had been reset to '0000'.

Okay, now I elaborate on all of this to explain that they (associates and agents of the Freemason network - that runs your government) seem to require an access to our home in order to install these little 'spy' agitation devices. So, when I say this or that is happening, please note that they've entered my home - show me that they enter my home like some sort of mad villain in an action movie - and then this stuff starts occurring. So, did they hack my thermostat through the internet? Probably. Did they install some form of secret camera ability inside of our house? I believe so.

These are the facts and circumstances that lead me to explain to you that they drive a set of black cars past my house while I grill one side of chicken breasts, and the immediately switch to a series of white cars past my house when I flip the breasts over to cook the next side. The list goes on and on and on. I live throughout a daily 'game' wherein they attempt to 'prove' that I am being monitored, catch my attention, then enflame that attention to anger. Every single day, from the moment that I wake up this begins and carries on until I lay down to go to sleep.

These are the true stories and factual records of a person that is telling you a completely unbelievable description of what life has become in the year 2026, in America and Spain, under the technocratic dictatorship of the worldwide Freemasons.

I am trying to make it very clear to you all:

This group of people is hiding inside of the government and is using normal citizens to act as their eyes, ears, arms, and legs.

They have deceived us all into believing that we actually have a functioning government that works on behalf of We, the People - we do not.

In that time they have stolen from the tax dollars of our people everything that we have produced AND THEN DRIVEN US INTO $38 TRILLION DOLLARS OF DEBT!
That we are supposed to pay off on their behalf!

Ladies and gentlemen, I cannot express to you in terms that are actually clear enough to describe my emotions at this time.

The 'secret' society of a group of people - this is a criminal gang that I am describing - has secretly stolen the American tax dollar and driven us into $38 trillion dollars of debt that they are spreading to their own community at our expense.

They are doing this while pretending to represent us and our values.

I am personally witnessing the religious work that I produce being immediately stolen, inverted, and presented to the public from the highest levels of government.

You need to wake up from your dream paralysis. You are not living in a dream.
You are ignoring a demonic nightmare that is invading our life and destroying the future of you and what children you may or may not have.

In fact, how many are not reproducing because these demons are running so wild through the world? Many, many, many.

Freemasons are destroying our world and future.

(As I finish this, a loud vehicle goes banging past our home, etc. Over and over and over. These people parade past my house, have nowhere to be, and nothing else to do. I have followed them. They literally put blinkers on left, right, don't turn - they drive in circles, etc. They have no business in my neighborhood. They are simply following orders to drive past, around, and near our home - at specific times, on command, to bother us - every single fucking day.)(Pardon the typos. TLDR)
